Overview

Coastal Sediments is an international coastal science and engineering conference which has been held every four years since 1977, alternating with its sister conference, Coastal Dynamics. Approximately 300 coastal engineers and scientists attended Coastal Sediments 2015 in San Diego, California, USA from 27 countries. The Coastal Sediments Proceedings, published by World Scientific, are peer-reviewed and have a high impact on the coastal science and engineering community as tracked by Google Scholar.

Coastal Sediments 2019 (CS19) is the 9th Conference in the Coastal Sediments Series. CS19 will be held in Tampa/St. Petersburg, FL, with the theme of “Advancing Science & Engineering for Resilient Coastal Systems.” Oral and poster presentations and accompanying papers will be selected from abstracts submitted on a variety of topics including special sessions. The conference topics and the special sessions, along with other conference information, are listed on the conference website (<http://coastalsediments.cas.usf.edu/index.html>).

Optional Short Courses will be offered in full- and half-day formats on May 27, 2019; please see the CS19 website for details about the short courses.

Optional Technical Tours will be offered in full-and half-day formats on May 31, 2019.

Hotel

CS19 will be held in Tampa/St. Petersburg, Florida at the TradeWinds Island Grand Resort, located directly on the beach, 5500 Gulf Blvd, St. Petersburg, Beach, FL 33706, +1-727-367-6461, fax +1-727-363-2275, <https://www.tradewindsresort.com/index> . Nestled on the island of St. Pete Beach, the resorts have a breezy, casual ambiance, yet share the diverse cultural events and active nightlife of the Tampa Bay metropolitan area. Room rates are $149 USD/night (per diem rates apply for Federal and State employees) with a cutoff date of April 26, 2019.

Who

Technical Colleagues – CS19 will provide an international forum for technical discussions and networking with coastal engineers, geologists, oceanographers, and others interested in the physical processes of coastal sediments and morphology change. Professionals, graduate students, and active retirees are invited to exchange knowledge, share experiences, and establish or enhance collaborations.

Sponsors and Exhibitors – A range of sponsorships, including exhibits, are available ranging from $900 to $10,000 USD to market and support agencies and companies. Exhibitors will set up booths in the coffee break area to discuss products and services with attendees. More information for sponsors and exhibitors can be found on the CS19 website.

Students – A student paper contest will award the top 2 student achievers with a monetary award, to be announced at the Awards Luncheon on Thursday, May 30, 2019. Students must be enrolled full-time at an accredited college or university.

Coastal Award –The CS19 Coastal Award, one of the most prestigious awards in coastal science, will be presented to the winner at the Awards Luncheon on Thursday, May 30, 2019.

Families – St. Pete Beach, FL is renowned for beautiful beaches and weather and a variety of family day excursions (<https://www.tradewindsresort.com/index>).
